PIUS XI HIGH SCHOOL 80 YEARS

80 YEARS

Under the direction of the Pallottine Fathers and the School Sisters of St. Francis, Pius XI High School welcomed its first students in September 1929.

Located above the old St. Anthony of Padua Church, Pius XI consisted of three improvised classrooms. It wasn't until 20 years later that the original section of the current building opened, with the six-story addition completed in 1957.

In fall 1998, new construction and renovation of existing space yielded, among other things, a chapel, library media center, multi-purpose lobby and enhanced labs and classrooms.

The latest addition, Pius XI's field house, opened in fall of 2004 and includes a 1,600-seat gymnasium, space for 23 sports/57 teams, a fitness and weight room, and ample access for community-wide competitions and events.
